itelligence presents the proven it.compact portfolio, now with over 120 solution packages

Bielefeld, Germany, March 1, 2006 - itelligence has significantly expanded its successful it.compact portfolio – solutions with a defined price/performance ratio – and will be presenting their new catalog, with over 120 solutions packages, at the CeBIT in Hall 4, D 38. In its third release, the IT full-service provider for SAP global services offers it with, for instance, its it.x-change EDI converter or solutions for SAP portals. However, not only technical offerings distinguish their it.compact portfolio. A cost analysis for basic SAP operation can also be found among their 120 offerings, and the assessment of an optimized archive solution. Each of the 120 bundled IT packages is offered by itelligence at a set price, along with a previously agreed implementation and roll-out timeframe.

Bernd Udo Hagemann, Product Manager for the it.compact portfolio at itelligence: “The terrific response to our offering has prompted us to include in the portfolio – along with the proven packages consisting of previously offered areas such as Human Resources, Financials or Logistics – further areas such as Portal, Web & Document Services. These customized packages, with a set price and for a specified timeframe, are just what the market has been looking for.”

All it.compact packages provide solutions for precisely defined requirements in the most diverse application areas for SAP software. Their exact tailoring guarantees a quick, dependable, calculable and – above all else – targeted project execution. The offering also encompasses smaller tools for everyday routines, such as for optimizing SAP user interfaces or printing labels directly from SAP. It is a well-rounded portfolio that, with its practical orientation, is finding more and more customers among classic and upper midsize market.
