Successful partnership for the SAP environment: CAL Consult and itelligence AG

Two SAP partners launch strategic market initiative for the logistics sector

Bielefeld/Munich, May 31, 2005 – The fast-growing logistics sector is to receive support from two strong SAP partners. The new SAP partner CAL Consult, a subsidiary of the logistics service provider Kraftverkehr Nagel and itelligence AG, which has been established as a SAP partner for several years, are bundling their competences for the logistics sector. The advantage: the partnership combines itelligence's many years of SAP experience and the well-founded industry expertise of CAL in the jointly developed industry solution it.logistics. Joint promotional activities such as a road show and special customer events for both classic and upscale SMEs are planned by the partners before the end of the year.

The dynamic logistics market demands that its participants adjust quickly to new market conditions. Thus, logistics companies in the area of storage services today not only offer static storage space, but also supply chain management and information in all areas of the flow of goods. Simple carriers and warehousing specialists are developing to become multidimensional logistics service providers who assume coordination and planning tasks on behalf of their customers. In addition, logistics companies offer services related to warehousing such as finishing, assembly and packaging.

Michael Eckensberger, CEO of Kraftverkehr Nagel: "In it.logistics, we are translating the many years of experience we have gathered in this sector into custom-tailored industry software."

Herbert Vogel, CEO of itelligence AG adds: "Our well-founded SAP expertise combined with CAL Consult's access to the industry promise a successful start for it.logistics. Through us, modern mid-market service providers can realize greater competitiveness."

itelligence AG press release

Successful partnership for the SAP market: CAL Consult and itelligence AG

Two SAP partners launch strategic market initiative for the logistics sector

It must be possible for all these functions to be stored scalably in the logistics service provider's ERP system. The all-in-one it.logistics solution combines the benefits of standard software, such as investment security, future-proofing, internationality and constant innovation with the more rapid introduction of specialized software tailored to the industry.

The it.logistics logistics solution depicts the areas of warehousing, supply chain management, order management and transportation and connects them with the familiar functions in SAP, such as order processing and accounting.
