itelligence presents it.wood industry solution with integrated graphic planning systems in order processing

Bielefeld, January 12, 2006 – itelligence AG, one of the leading SAP specialists for the timber/furniture industry, is presenting its mySAP all-in-one industry solution it.wood for the first time at the International Furniture Fair imm cologne 2006. At Stand G20/H21 in Hall 4.1, the itelligence specialists will be demonstrating the innovations in their graphic planning systems, such as the bidirectional integration of graphic planning in order processing with it.wood.

With more than 1,300 exhibitors and 130,000 specialists in attendance from over 100 countries, imm cologne is seen as an international trend barometer for the furniture industry. As a leading SAP consultant, itelligence AG is using the fair to introduce its tested industry solution it.wood to a specialist audience in Cologne.

Johannes Cordes, Head of Consulting for the timber and furniture industry at itelligence AG said: "At this fair we will be meeting directly with specialists in this industry, who will be able to give us fast feedback on our solution. In turn, with it.wood, industry experts can find out about state-of-the-art IT solutions for the timber and furniture industry and their features. It's a classic win-win situation."

The true strength of itelligence's it.wood industry solution lies in its furniture-specific commercial order processing. it.wood integrates graphic layout systems directly into SAP order processing. In addition, rough capacity planning and delivery scheduling are also incorporated into order entry.

Complex product configurations – from sales orders through bills of material to work planning – can be consistently saved directly in the system; thus, costs and margins can be calculated during order processing.
